10 Basic Things to Remember When Preparing Your Book Manuscript

1. Your manuscript should be submitted in Microsoft Word, .doc or .docx files. Each chapter should be in a separate file labeled as such.
2. Please number “floating” items like tables, figures, and boxes sequentially and by chapter. The first table in Chapter 2 is Table 2.1, the next is Table 2.2, etc. The first table in Chapter 3 is Table 3.1. Each item should be submitted in a separate file labeled as such. Do not copy/paste tables, figures, etc. into Word documents. Instead, use a “callout” where you want the item to appear (“Insert F1.2 around here.”)
3. You are responsible for securing permission for all items for which it is needed. Any photo, figure, table, or other image you do not create usually requires permission (or some documentation indicating that it is open source, etc.). Any text quotation that exceeds “fair use” requires permission. We require world print and electronic rights/all languages for all permissions.
4. We use APA style (with a few exceptions) for references. Note: we don’t use DOIs, so no need to include them.
5. If your manuscript includes case material, you must include releases from the subjects of the cases with the names blanked out, or confirmation that the material is disguised, composite, or fictional.
6. Your artwork should be of reproducible quality. Bitmap images (photos/scans) should be a minimum of 300 dpi at the size they are to be printed. Author-created graphics should be submitted in the original format in which they were created. Graphics you supply should be in formats that we can open and edit.
7. We prefer complex mathematical material to be prepared using MathType.
8. If you are preparing a revised edition of your Guilford book, we will supply a Word version of the previous edition. If you haven’t received it, ask your acquisitions editor. This is the most up-to-date, accurate version of your material. Please be sure to work from this document rather than any other files you have.
9. Please be sure to contact your acquisitions editor if you have any questions about preparing your manuscript.
10. Further information on all this and more can be found in the Manuscript Preparation Guide posted on our website along with other helpful resources in the section “For Authors.”
